

Cuisine Travel Guide

Activity E

Chapter 30

Name _____

Date _____ Period _____

book
cia.gov world
factbook

Imagine you are a travel agent. Part of your job involves designing travel brochures for a Cuisines of Europe travel package your company is offering. On these pages, design a travel brochure for one of the European countries. Use information from the text and other resources to provide some background on the country. Then focus on the cuisine so people will want to visit the country. Place drawings or pictures from newspapers, magazines, or the Internet in the boxes to illustrate your brochure. Use your creativity to develop a descriptive, interesting brochure rather than just a fact sheet.

Country: _____

* Climate _____

- Geography _____

- Size: _____
- Area - comparative = state
- Capital city: _____

* General Information

- Population: _____
- Language spoken: _____
- Historical background: Summarize on a 550p

- Form of government: _____

- Primary religion: _____

- Major industries: _____

map

flag

(Continued)

Activity E (continued) Name _____

- Customs and beliefs: a common practice unique to a group of people
- Native costume: a set of clothes or style
- Holidays: _____
- Points of interest: where would you visit. 3 main spots why?
- * Cuisine - style or method of cooking
- Common ingredients: list - explain

Typical dishes (list five, describe two): _____

Characteristics of the cuisine: most common types of dishes

Preparation methods: _____

Meal patterns: when / what time people often dine

Serving customs: _____

example Thanksgiving = Turkey

pictures of food

a popular recipe

picture of something unique