Making Learning Comprehensible

Jan 20, 2016

by Kristin Caballero & Lori Dear

SIOP includes specific lesson planning and delivery suggestions to help make curriculum accessible to all students.

Making Curriculum Available to All Students...

- Cooperative learning,
- Explicit, targeted vocabulary development
- Slower speech with clear enunciation
- Visuals, demonstrations and hands-on learning
- Text adaptations
- Homework adaptations
- Supplementary materials

Goals

CO: I can use SIOP strategies to incorporate academic discussions more frequently in my classroom by Planning using the TIPS strategies.

LO: I can write three new strategies incorporating academic SIOP discussion in my classroom in the next two weeks by planning instruction to incorporate TIPS.

Oral Retelling Task: Article: “Language gap between rich and poor children begins in infancy”

Directions: Number off 1-4

1. Read your designated section.
  2. As you are reading, underline 1-2 keywords or phrases from each sentence to help retell the text.
  3. Next, list the underlined words or phrases on an index card in order.
  4. After that, form a group of 4 with a #1,2,3 or 4 to Jigsaw and retell the section that you read using only your index card.
  5. Finally, write a summary of what you read using only your index card.

After reading article why must we Make Learning Comprehensible for All Learners

- Students from low socio-economic backgrounds as well as ELL's have a difficult time understanding vocabulary and speaking in grammatically correct sentences.
- Our job is to get them talking and keep them talking, while on task with academic learning.
- This is not an easy task. It begins with planning and tools the teacher can use to get the students to talk to each other.

Technique: 'No Opt Out'

"It's okay to not know, but it's not okay to not try."

I don't know.
I can't.

May I please have more information?

Would you
please repeat the question?

May I have more time to think?

May I ask a friend
for help?

Would you
please rephrase
the question?

Where could I find more information about that?

Can you help me please?

Did We Meet our Goals?
