

Resource List

Hello students and families,

To make things a little more simple, I have compiled a “go-to” list of resources for your review. In addition to this list, I will be holding 4 mandatory class meetings on Zoom weekly for instruction and to check in. More information is to come on the days and times of the weekly meetings.

Reading

- ❖ Freckle: required assignments are posted daily Monday through Fridays
- ❖ Epic!: To explore books to read for fun.
- ❖ Vooks: I will post links to view books from this website, there is NOT a student log in
- ❖ Library resources: Use your library card and your pin number to access thousands of books online <https://dearbornlibrary.org/>

Math

- ❖ Freckle: required assignments are posted daily Monday through Fridays
- ❖ Zearn: aligned with 3rd grade standards, great math resource to stay on pace with your learning,
- ❖ Khan Academy: Weekly assignments posted, assignments sometimes have 20+ lessons. These lessons are linked directly to the 3rd grade learning standards

Writing

- ❖ Freckle: required writing assignments are posted within the reading assignments and are posted daily Monday through Fridays
- ❖ Journal: Starting this week, I want each student to journal everyday. This journal is for students to have a moment to reflect on their daily activities, feelings, hopes, fears, etc. I will be requiring students to write at least 5 sentences everyday in their journal. I will post a video explaining the directions.
- ❖ Pen Pal Letters: I have letters from your pen pals. They were written in December, so we are really late reading them, but I thought it would be a great writing activity. I will be scanning all of the letters and sending them out to your email for you to read. You will then reply back to the pen pal on a Google Doc that I will email to your pen pal's teacher or you could always hand write the letter and mail it to me. More information to come.
