

Always begin by marking your diagram with the GIVEN information. Then, mark any other known information that you can easily see in the diagram (vertical angles, reflexive or shared sides, etc.).

How to set up a proof:

