

A little known, yet integral piece of American history: based on the lives of Alice Paul and Lucy Burns, two young radical women who were instrumental in getting women the right to vote in America. (IMDB)

Alice Paul: Suffragist and co-founder of the National Woman's Party

Lucy Burns: Suffragist and co-founder of the National Woman's Party

Inez Millholland: Suffragist; the New Woman on the white horse

Doris Stevens: Suffragist and a Silent Sentinel

Ruza Wenclawska: Suffragist and a Silent Sentinel

Mabel Vernon: Suffragist and organizer

Harriot Blatch: Suffragist; daughter of Elizabeth Cady Stanton; founded the Women's Political Union

Carrie Chapman Catt: Suffragist; President of the National American Woman Suffrage Association

Ida Wells-Barnett: Civil rights leader; one of the founders of the NAACP

Fictional Characters:

Emily Leighton: Wife of Senator Leighton

Senator Tom Leighton: U.S. Senator not in favor of women's suffrage

Ben Weissman: Cartoonist for the Washington Post newspaper

