

To find the area of a rectangle, multiply the length and width.

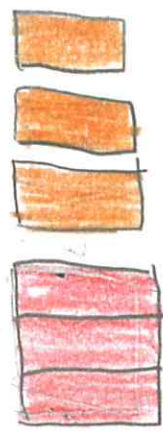

Quadrilaterals have 4 sides and at least 1 set of parallel sides.

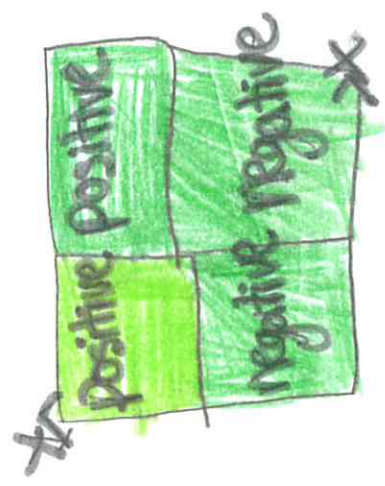

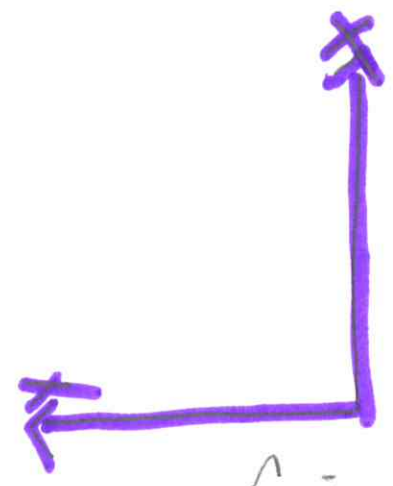

Composing
 Composing a shape means to put together one.

Decomposing
 Decomposing a shape means to break something apart.

The x coordinate goes horizontally on the grid.
 The y coordinate goes vertically on the grid.

To find the area of a triangle, multiply the base and height.

A triangle can appear in many different kinds of shapes.

Polygons can never have an opening spot or a curve.

When you have quadrants on the coordinates plane, and you have to have numbers.