

BIG TEN ANNOUNCEMENT

A Big Ten Player Catching a Football

The Big Ten college sports conference made an announcement on September 16. A conference is a group of teams that compete against each other. The Big Ten conference announced football teams will play this fall. The football season will start on October 23. Each team will play eight games. The Big Ten had announced on August 11 that it would not play football because of the coronavirus. People can be tested for the coronavirus easier now, so the Big Ten decided to play. Players, coaches and staff will be tested for the coronavirus every day. People are excited to watch the Big Ten play football!
