

ELA - Writing

24. The Constitution of the United States separated the Federal Government into 3 branches. Each branch was given certain powers and each branch has leaders that are important to each branch.

The Constitution of the United States separated the Federal Government into 3 branches. Each branch was given certain powers and each branch has leaders that are important to each branch. The 3 branches are: _____,

_____, and

_____.

The legislative branch's main job is _____. The people in this branch are: _____ and _____.

The _____ branch's main job is _____. The people in this branch are: _____ and _____.

The _____ branch's main job is _____. The people in this branch are: _____ and _____.