

Making inferences: Connect a quote to a character.

After WNB, turn to a blank page in your notes and write which of the two quotes you like the best at the top:

"Jealousy is mental cancer." OR

"Those who spend their time looking for faults in others, usually spend no time to correct their own."

Read starting at the bottom of page 827, beginning with Brutus', line 78 "What means this shouting..." through the bottom of page 829.

As you read the following lines, consider which character best demonstrates the quote you chose and explain why. Include text evidence in your explanation. (four sentences: T.S., TE, IN, IN)
