Choose one of these topics to research on your phone. Find as many facts as you can about the issue and write them here. You should be using a variety of different sites and resources to find them. When you are finished gathering information, display your social issue topic on a blank piece of paper with colored pictures. Make sure you include all of the facts you found that support your position. Also, state whether you support the issue or whether you are against it. This is your position. You will be presenting it to class.
