

An echidna has a spiky coat to protect itself!

- An echidna looks like a porcupine or a hedgehog. It has sharp spines all over its body.
- When they are scared, echidnas can roll into small balls to protect themselves.
- Echidnas use their long, sticky tongues to catch and eat insects.
- An echidna is one of the many unusual animals from Australia!

An Echidna

What do you do when you are scared? Why?
