

SOME GOOD NEWS

John Krasinski

Actor John Krasinski has a show on YouTube called Some Good News. John talks about good news on the show to share happiness. John posted a new video on May 3. The new video is about graduation. Many students will graduate this year, but students will not have typical graduation ceremonies. Many ceremonies have been changed because of the coronavirus. John wanted to celebrate graduating students and made a video. Other videos have been about cooking, thanking hospital workers and prom. John often has guests on his show, including actor Steve Carell, singer Billie Eilish and astronaut Jessica Meir. Many people enjoy these videos!
